

About Portable Long Service Leave

The NT Build portable long service leave scheme began operation on 1 July 2005 with the commencement of the Construction Industry Long Service Leave and Benefits Act.

The Scheme enables workers in the Northern Territory construction industry to qualify for long service leave based on service with the industry rather than service with the one employer.

NT Build is located in Woolner. It is administered by Territorians, with local staff, and a Government appointed Board of Territory based members, including an independent Chairperson and worker and industry representatives.

Features of the Scheme include

- Access to reciprocal arrangements with schemes operating in other states and territories (with workers able to combine construction industry service from different states and territories when making a claim).
- Statute based and funded through a Ministerially determined levy on eligible Northern Territory construction projects of at least $1 million in value, excluding single detached dwellings and related private garages, carports and sheds.
- Maintenance of a register recording the number of service days worked by each registered workers within the Northern Territory construction industry, based on bi-annual reporting of service days by employers of registered workers.
- No fees or charges for workers or employers.
